

January 2023

Dear Valued Customer:

As part of our commitment to customers, FMCNA continually works to absorb the rising costs of the materials we purchase. The past year, however, has continued to present many challenges including materials and component shortages and related costs, increased shipping rates, as well as procurement issues.

Unfortunately, due to these impacts, a price increase on spare parts is unavoidable at this time. Effective as of January 1, 2023, spare parts list prices (Normal, Disposable and Exchange) have been increased by three percent (3%). A small number of parts have price increases more than three percent due to additional cost increases we have experienced on these specific items.

The revised Spare Parts Price List is available as of January 1, 2023 on the Product Support Documentation page located at www.fmcna.com/support.

FMCNA values your business and is committed to meeting your needs for quality service, equipment, and products. Should you have any questions, please call our Spare Parts Customer Service Department at 1-800-227-2572.

Sincerely,
